ROUTES DU BONHEUR Copenhagen to Als - the “garden of Denmark”

From Copenhagen to Nordborg, this itinerary takes the traveler across the two main Danish islands, Zealand and Funen, before arriving on the isle of Als. You’ll discover a modern capital that celebrates the sea, culture, and trade, along with all the landscapes, forests and shorelines that make this country so peacefule. Only a few small hills dot the landscape of hedgerows, gardens, plains, and beaches, where you feel like you have the entire world all to yourself. You’ll follow in the footsteps of Andersen's fairy tales and the paintings of the golden age of Danish art, as well as the small producers and great chefs who have brought local cuisine to the top tiers of the major dining guides.

1 COPENHAGEN — 2 NIGHTS

( 1 property available )

Founded in the 12th century, Copenhagen has been the capital of Denmark since 1416. Its present splendor owes much to Christian IV, a great admirer of the Renaissance. He had many of the buildings and castles you'll see while cycling around the city constructed in the 17th century. From the 19th century, Copenhagen established itself as a major cultural center, finally becoming a pioneering city in terms of urbanism and quality of life. In total, the city has 26 stars in the Michelin guide – an excellent start to any gastronomic exploration. A gourmet exploration of the Scandinavian capital of haute cuisine is a must.

Dragsholm Slot

Hotel and restaurant in the country. For more than 800 years, Dragsholm Slot, a Danish castle that has weathered the test of time, has stood bathed in the exceptional light of the Odsherred Peninsula. It is surrounded by the shallow bays, woods and fields of a Unesco Geopark. The impressive landscape was created during the ice age, with lateral moraines and rolling hills surrounded by Denmark's finest beaches and criss-crossed by paths that provide breathtaking views. Inside the castle, discover an ambience of warmth and authenticity, an invitation to continue the experience in the gourmet restaurant. Under the wide, white stone arches, Nordic gourmet cuisine holds court, fostered by the area's exquisite, acclaimed produce.

Falsled Kro

Restaurant and hotel in the country. As you cross the threshold of this traditional thatched-roofed house on the island of Fyn, the birthplace of Hans Christian Andersen's fairy tales, you will experience the simple pleasures of Scandinavian living. The team at Falsled Kro offers guests the warmest of welcomes–just one encouragement to live in the moment and appreciate its cozy charms. Amid whitewashed walls, and surrounded by antique liquor cabinets, you will also be enchanted by the scent of freshly baked pastries, served throughout the day, drifting from a wood-fired oven. The generously decorated rooms feel like true cocoons and invite families to share a moment together and couples to cuddle up. A charming hotel, set in a verdant, natural environment, the Falsled Kro is also renowned for its seasonal cuisine, enhanced by fresh herbs from its own vegetable garden.

Dyvig Badehotel

Hotel and restaurant on the seafront. On the island of Als, in southern Denmark, discover Sønderborg — a quaint harbour town where you are sure to fall instantly in love with Dyvig Badehotel. This elegant boutique hotel located on the waterfront is in perfect harmony with the surrounding countryside and the waters of the Baltic Sea, revealing its charm through its 19th century building which itself is a beautiful reflection of the local traditional architecture. Within this timeless and relaxed setting, the seventeen rooms and four spacious suites engage in a sophisticated interplay of original decor, antique furniture and modern elements. An authentic haven of peace, Dyvig Badehotel is the ideal place for a break in which you can find serenity, be pampered in the spa, and appreciate the beauty and wonders of this unique region of Denmark. This includes the culinary delights of chefs John Bech Amstrup and Christian Lebech, which can be enjoyed in the gourmet restaurant or brasserie. Their cuisine is both contemporary and classic, incorporating the best local produce — especially from the sea — in a seasonal menu that will leave you with memories you will soon not forget.
