

ROUTES DU BONHEUR Between the coast and the Pyrenees: exploring Catalan roots

Catalonia is about far more than just Barcelona. On both sides of the French-Spanish border, the region is as renowned for its sublime landscapes as its pretty towns. The golden coves and beaches of the Costa Brava are complemented by beautiful green valleys and chiseled mountains that can reach nearly 10,000 feet in altitude. Along its mysterious roads, travelers will wind through isolated villages and encounter breathtaking panoramas that have inspired some of the greatest artists.

1 TORRENT — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

Mas de Torrent Hotel & Spa

Hotel and restaurant in the country. The Mas de Torrent is located in the heart of Empordà, the most authentic and chic region on the Costa Brava, with its beautiful beaches and little medieval villages, in between olive and cypress trees. This 18th century masía delights with its spectacular views, delightful gardens and impeccable, attentive service. The welcoming interior is home to both classical and contemporary suites, some with their own private pool. Two extraordinary restaurants and the Mas Spa make for a magical stay. Don't miss the treasures in a region so beloved by the artist Salvador Dalí: Cadaqués, Pals, Peratallada and Sant Martí d'Empúries.

2 LLADURS — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

La Vella Farga

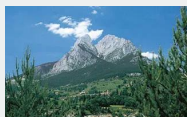

Hotel and restaurant in the mountains. It is in the foothills of the magnificent region of the Catalan Pyrenees — a natural setting worthy of the dreamy, contemplative films of the great Andrei Tarkovsky — where lies La Vella Farga, a large traditional farmhouse and estate built in the 11th century. Like a masterpiece, the view from its vast terrace, which includes a superb infinity pool, presents a striking contrast between the gentle greens of the surrounding nature and the cool blue of the sky. An embodiment of pastoral elegance and tranquillity, the property is imbued with a sense of silence and calm that is deliciously intoxicating. The warm service and the restaurant's innovative cuisine of local, natural ingredients only further confirm the exceptional, if not transcendental, stay that awaits.

3 PRADES — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

Château de Riell

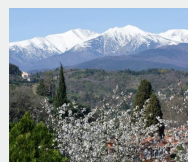

Hotel and restaurant on a river. In an unspoilt valley in French Catalonia, looking out at the snow-topped mount Canigou, you will find the Château de Riell, perched among parasol pines and oleander trees. This hotel is made for hedonists, with its baroque interiors and a restaurant whose highlights are local and respectful of nature. Sports enthusiasts can choose from the huge range of outdoor activities against a backdrop of breathtaking scenery and the open-air pool set on the castle's ramparts. Discerning gentlemen travellers will be impressed by the ambiance of the Out of Africa bar and the dacha, where you can sit and read or enjoy breakfast. A splendid escape in Romanesque Roussillon.

4 SAINT CYPRIEN — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

L' Île de la Lagune Thalasso & Spa

Hotel and restaurant on the seafont. Surrounded by greenery on a small private island in the lagoon of Saint-Cyprien, this contemporary hotel is a veritable cocoon enveloped by the Mediterranean and the Pyrenees. Bathed in sunshine, the rooms invite you to leave your worries behind with their maritime decor inspired by Riva boats. On the roof, the year-round heated seawater pool offers a panoramic view over the entire lagoon, and the thalassotherapy spa boasts personalised treatments in an exclusive setting. At the gourmet Restaurant L'Almandin, the chef composes a seasonal Mediterranean cuisine of local products, magnified by their subtle pairings.
