Txai Resort Itacaré

Hotel and restaurant on the seafont. At the edge of the Atlantic Forest, Itacarezinho beach stretches out as far as the eye can see. Coconut palms, white sand, warm crystalline blue ocean the year round – and some bungalows nestling in the shade of the trees in this idyllic setting. Built mainly from wood and natural materials, they sit on stilts either at the waterside or perched on the slopes of the hill and enjoy superb views of the beach. Shamash Spa, also built on the slopes with sweeping views over the ocean, offers a range of beauty rituals using natural Bahia products. No less impressive are its culinary delights, with fresh, healthy, fragrant cuisine – a blend of Brazilian and European influences.

Botanique Hotel Experience

The Botanique Hotel Experience is an ode to nature that was designed expressly to give guests an immersive experience in the luxuriant botanical world of Campos de Jordão – a vast, protected reserve halfway between Rio de Janeiro and São Paulo. The Botanique Hotel Experience sits on a hillside facing the Mantiqueira Mountains and Brazilian architects and artists are behind its design, combining enormous clay boulders from nearby rivers with pink cedarwood, glass, and steel. The villas and suites of this intimate retreat have floor-to-ceiling windows, as does the Mina restaurant, which offers views of the Atlantic forest and serves garden-to-table cuisine. The large, 11,000-square-foot spa with indoor ozonated pool provides a range of treatments inspired by traditional Brazilian relaxation rituals. Exploring local nature and culture will be the highlights of your stay as you enjoy hikes, horseback rides, or harvesting organic herbs.

Castelo Saint Andrews - Gramado

Hotel and restaurant in the country. A few kilometers through the Serra, along the “Romantic Route” on your way to the Castelo Saint Andrews - Gramado hotel, is enough to set the scene: this is a place of surprises. The architecture of the building is impressive in itself, inspired by Scotland’s Saint Andrews Castle, and each elegantly furnished room bears the name of the precious stone that lent its color to the décor. Dine by the light of Bohemian crystal chandeliers in a restaurant serving sophisticated international cuisine, after enjoying a cocktail or a glass of wine from the well-stocked cellar.
