ROUTES DU BONHEUR A journey into the American southwest on a “kindred spirits” spa and vistas tour

Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado: the promise of escape, solitude and rejuvenation. A veritable vertigo of infinite landscapes follow on from one another: the Grand Canyon, the mythical Route 66, the Rio Grande and Mount Elbert. This region also tells the story of the United States through the memories of indigenous peoples and gold prospectors alike in the shadow of the majestic Rocky Mountains—offering so many spaces where you can recharge body and soul amid its wild panoramas and restorative spas.

Dunton Hot Springs

Hotel and restaurant in the mountains. The last inhabitants left in 1918. This former mining town deep in Colorado has been restored from top to bottom and offers an exquisite retreat. Log cabins and spacious tents provide delightfully comfortable rooms; meals are taken in the saloon which has retained its original character, and provides a convivial gathering spot. The landscape of this splendid alpine valley, nestled in the San Juan mountains, changes with the passing seasons, from pristine white snow to flaming orange in autumn. This magnificent site's natural hot springs with their life-enhancing benefits are an added bonus.
