

ROUTES DU BONHEUR Austria, along the Tyrol mountain road

In Vorarlberg and Tyrol, mountain lakes reflect the snow-capped peaks of some of Austria's most beautiful peaks. Here, in the western part of the country, valleys weave beneath mountains over 9,800 feet high. On two enchanting hiking trails, encounter the world of Swarovski crystal, the historic old town of Innsbruck, a suspension bridge, castles and fortresses, a silver mine, and, of course, truly legendary ski slopes.

Gut Steinbach Hotel Chalets Spa

Hotel and restaurant in the mountains. Hotel Gut Steinbach is the masterpiece of the Graf von Moltke family, who, through their passion and care, has revived Bavarian art de vivre on an alpine plateau. At this estate in Chiemgau, a region bordering Austria, they have created an authentic haven of hospitality, designed to also be fully sustainable. At 700 m in altitude and set around a natural lake, the modern, charming and comfortable main building and chalets reflect the local architecture while also ensuring that the peace of the surrounding mountains is never disturbed. Across 50 hectares of meadow and forest, deer, pigs, poultry, goats and rabbits are raised to serve the rational needs of the Heimat restaurant, where chef Achim Hack showcases his farm-to-fork cuisine.
