

ROUTES DU BONHEUR From the Douro Valley to the Dão, a journey to the heart of Portuguese vineyards

Portugal is a land of wine that is sometimes still inexplicably overlooked. In the north of the country, between the Douro Valley and the mountainous Dão region, the perfect geometry of the vineyards is indisputably a work of art. In these arid landscapes between river and mountain, the quintas (the name given to the region's wineries) produce wines of exceptional quality. From the Atlantic coast to the interior of the country, from Porto to Santar, exploring the Douro and Dão combines the pleasures of the landscapes with those of the palate.

1 VILA NOVA DE GAIA - PORTO — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

The Yeatman

Hotel and restaurant in town. Sit back on the terrace of your room and admire the panoramic view: beneath your eyes, Porto, a Unesco World Heritage site, and the sinuous curves of the Douro river. The Yeatman, located in the heart of Vila Nova de Gaia—the historical headquarters of the Port wine houses—owes its name to a family of British traders who are still active: this legacy is told through the décor of the rooms and a great collection of Portuguese wines. The chef showcases contemporary gastronomy, with food and wine pairing an important part of the dining experience. The final touch is the choice of treatments available at The Yeatman Wine Spa—an oasis of harmony and well-being.

2 AMARANTE — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Casa da Calçada

Hotel and restaurant in town. The lemon-yellow facade of the Casa da Calçada hints at the sunny stay that awaits at this hotel. Situated in the heart of the town of Amarante, between the bustle of Porto and the sun-dappled countryside of the Douro Valley, both less than an hour away, this building dating back to the 16th century, with its golden baroque interiors, is a favourite with those who love beauty, golf, great wine and gastronomy. Nearby you find a splendid 18-hole golf course. The hotel also produces “Vinho Verde” wines, and on-site activities include a tour of the region’s best wine “quintas” that will ensure that you never forget the differences between Tawny, Ruby, White or Vintage Port.

3 SABROSA — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Quinta Nova Winery House

Hotel and restaurant in a vineyard. Nestled in the heart of the Alto Douro wine region, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, this intimate and deliciously bucolic hotel boasts breathtaking views of the Douro River and the surrounding hills of terraced vineyards. With over 120 hectares of land, Quinta Nova is also a renowned producer of succulent Port and Douro wines. Carefully restored, its charming 18th-century building hosts eleven luxurious rooms with clean, elegant lines. Evoking the feel of a large family home, its quite and enchanting setting is perfect for tasting the joyous simplicity of Portuguese living. In the kitchen, chef André Carvalho honours local products as he revisits the region's traditional cuisine with finesse and nobility, while also matching his creations with exquisite wines.

4 SANTAR — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Valverde Santar Hotel & Spa

Surrounded by mountains that protect the area's vineyards from the wind, the Dão winemaking region, an hour from Porto, is popular for its preserved landscapes and its exceptional wines. The Valverde Santar Hotel & Spa is the ideal destination to enjoy the charms of the Portuguese interior, in a setting that celebrates art and the art of living. Located in the picturesque village of Santar, renowned for its magnificent century-old residences and beautiful gardens, the property is a vast typical 17th-century manor house, partly belonging to the royal family. At the entrance stands an imposing baroque fountain, which sets the tone for the decor. In the shared spaces, as in the guest rooms, period furniture and master paintings co-exist under painted or paneled ceilings. Gastronomy is also in the spotlight at the Valverde Santar Hotel & Spa, where you can enjoy modern cuisine that reinterprets traditional regional recipes. The property has collaborated for several years with the best local farmers, market gardeners and winegrowers, with all of whom it shares a taste for natural, seasonal products. Enjoy a bucolic, cultural and gourmet break, far from the daily grind.
