1 FRANKFURT AM MAIN

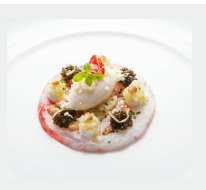

(1 property available)

Frankfurt, European capital of finance, is first and foremost a skyline of glass and steel buildings, a unique landscape reinvented by architect Norman Foster. But the city has nonetheless preserved some beautiful medieval houses. With a rich cultural offer, with its museums and theatres, Frankfurt is proving to be one of the most interesting and abundant cities in the country, whether you are a fan of modern architecture, football or Goethe's poetry...

2 GEISENHEIM - ORTSTEIL JOHANNISBERG — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

Burg Schwarzenstein

Hotel and restaurant in a vineyard. Burg Schwarzenstein is tucked away in Mediterranean-style parkland surrounded by vineyards overlooking the Rheingau wine-growing region with stunning vistas of the Rhine Valley. This magnificently restored castle, which dates back more than 150 years, with its thick walls, is a haven of hospitality and the epitome of sophisticated authenticity. Rooms and suites alike are appointed with luxurious furnishing fabrics and silks in delicate hues of cream and beige which create a warm contrast with the dark tones of the wenge wood panelling. Food lovers will delight in the exquisite cuisine served in the elegant gourmet restaurant and the supremely romantic Burgrestaurant.

3 SAARBRÜCKEN — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

ESPLANADE Saarbrücken

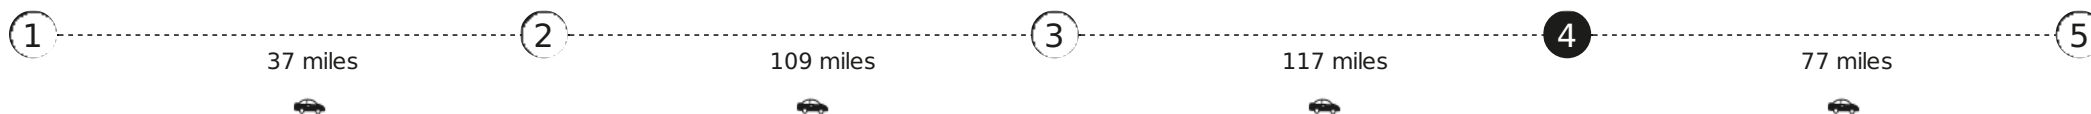

Hotel and restaurant in town. In the border triangle between Germany, France, and Luxembourg, ESPLANADE Saarbrücken is located at the entrance to the Nauwieser Viertel quarter, the cultural center of Saarbrücken. The building that the hotel calls home is a former schoolhouse, dated circa 1890. This architectural gem, a historic landmark from the Wilhelminian era, now serves as an elegant retreat and an outstanding dining establishment. The common areas are masterpieces of natural light, harmonious hues, sleek lines, noble materials, and sensual fabrics. The restaurant's cuisine is every bit equal to the décor. Chef Silio Del Fabro always uses fresh regional market produce to compose his evolving selections. His dishes are interpretations of classic French haute cuisine with Mediterranean and Japanese influences, playing on the subtle contrasts between classicism and modernism. Among the many prestigious labels on the wine menu, pride of place is given little-known wines from the German terroir. Individually selected design classics and mid-century artworks adorn the tastefully decorated guest rooms at ESPLANADE Saarbrücken, while the attentive and efficient service adds to the unforgettable charm of your stay.

5 BAD LAASPHE — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

Hotel Jagdhof Glashütte

Hotel and restaurant in the country. Nestled in the Rothaar Mountains, far from the hustle and bustle of daily life, this oasis of hospitality and culinary delights suddenly appears from nowhere. Jagdhof Glashütte, one of Germany's most beautiful countryside hotels, is situated in the heart of a densely wooded region, at the end of the spectacular Lahn Valley. Relaxation, fine dining and romanticism are part of the lifestyle in the forests and former hunting grounds of the Counts of Wittgenstein. The luxurious, rural atmosphere is already evident on entering the magnificent hall with its fireplace for a welcome cocktail. This hotel is ever faithful to its motto: back to nature, but with style.
