

ROUTES DU BONHEUR Rajasthan, the country of princes

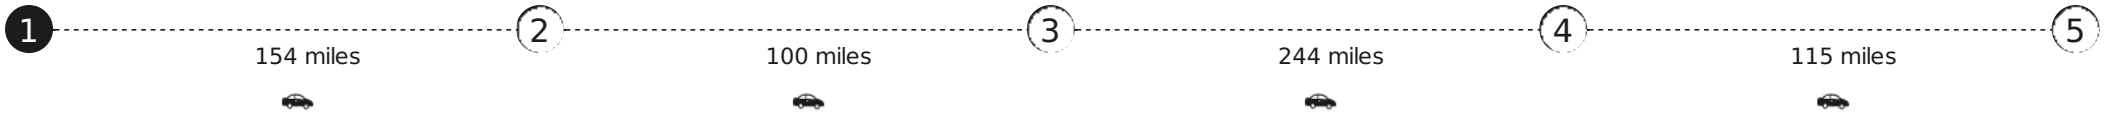

In Hindi, the name Rajasthan means "The Land of Kings" and, to this day, the place feels untouched by time. From the palaces of the Maharajas to impregnable fortresses, from the Thar Desert to luxuriant forests harboring natural reserves where tigers roam free, this trip is an exotic dream come true.

1 JAISALMER — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

SUJÁN The Serai, Jaisalmer

Hotel and restaurant in the desert. The Serai, Jaisalmer, a luxurious camp, sits on a 100-acre private estate of indigenous desert scrub, drawing inspiration from the designs of the royal caravan sites of Rajputana; blending their dash and vivacity with modern amenities and services. Venture into the mystical environs of Jaisalmer, discover its fabled golden fortress, now a Unesco World Heritage Site. Amidst this haven of peace the SUJÁN spa offers treatments in enclosed gardens. We serve local delicacies and western selections from daily changing menus that are meticulously planned using fresh ingredients. The enchanting location makes for a perfect evening to succumb to the charms of the legendary Manganiyars musicians.

2 JODHPUR — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Mihir Garh

Hotel and restaurant in the desert. This superb “Fortress of the Sun” overlooks the Thar desert, right in the heart of Rajasthan. Mihir Garh, designed throughout by Sidhart Singh and his wife Rashmi, was born out of their desire to share this heaven on earth. The fortress mirrors the architecture of the local villages, with its rounded edges, open fireplaces and alcoves, and the colour of the stone merges seamlessly with the surrounding sand. Mihir Garh stands as a tribute to this land swept by the desert winds and has been designed as an eco-friendly hotel. Each suite provides a unique place to relax, where luxurious appointments act as a foil to the mineral sand of the surrounding desert.

4 JAIPUR — 1 NIGHT

(1 property available)

Nicknamed the "pink city" for the color of the buildings in its old town, Jaipur fascinates visitors as much by its architecture as by the effervescence that reigns there. Founded in 1727 by Prince Sawai Jai Singh II, its unique checkerboard layout follows ancient astrological design rules. Linger in its streets and in the City Palace that Rudyard Kipling compared to the Palace of Versailles, or in front of the sumptuous Hawa Mahal (“Palace of the Winds”), which is worth the trip alone...
