

ROUTES DU BONHEUR Corsica and Sardinia: a Mediterranean sojourn

Exploring Corsica, from north to south, before crossing to the northern tip of Sardinia, is to enjoy the best of the islands' emblematic Mediterranean landscapes. Relax on sublime sandy beaches, discover wild coves where you can dive into clear, turquoise waters, then head inland to discover fortresses and charming hillside villages as you breath in the scents of the maquis. Your adventure also promises multiple pleasures for the palate, with authentic local produce, including charcuterie, cheeses and wines. Embrace the history and culture of these two proud and splendid islands at your own pace.

1 CALVI — 2 NIGHTS

(2 properties available)

La Villa Calvi

Hotel and restaurant on the seafront. A stay at La Villa is a statement. This hotel stands for good taste. It offers a particular art of living. La Villa, much like a private club, is a haven for lovers of beauty, tranquillity and culture. Art permeates the entire hotel, from the painter's canvas to the violinist's bow, not to mention the keys of the piano. Culinary art too has some well-tempered chords to play. The views over the Bay of Calvi, the scents of the sea and the pine forests, the sounds of music mingling with the song of the cicadas, the flavours of the local ingredients, beautiful plasterwork cool to the touch... Just enter La Villa, across from the Citadel, and all your senses will come alive.

La Signoria & Spa

Hotel and restaurant on the seafront. Five minutes from downtown Calvi with its lofty citadel, La Signoria, an 18th century Genoese estate, is perfectly positioned at the foot of the Corsican mountains, but within close proximity to the beautiful sandy beach. The estate is set in a lush paradise of orange trees, palm and pine trees and gurgling fountains. Take in the intoxicating aroma of the maquis poolside, in the Jacuzzi or in the Spa Casanera. Guests will feel that they are vacationing at someone's home. The charming, well maintained private beach "Signoria Mare" awaits them to sample the local flavours at the fisherman's hut inspired restaurant.

2 ZONZA — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Domaine Le Mouflon d'Or

It is Corsica's inland, the realm of maquis and mountains, that guests at the Relais & Châteaux Domaine Le Mouflon d'Or will experience. This estate of nearly 50 acres, deep in the Alta Rocca region, is home to an early-20th-century aristocratic residence standing grandly among Lebanon cedars and ancient chestnuts. It was painstakingly renovated to preserve its Belle Époque charm, enhancing it with contemporary elegance. Travelers can relish the comforts of the main building with its view of the Bavella Needles or embrace the natural environs by staying in one of the estate's two converted sheepfolds. With a restaurant that serves Mediterranean cuisine composed by Sébastien Chauchat, Le Domaine Le Mouflon d'Or offers another delicious way to experience genuine Corsican hospitality. Those who love hiking, mountain biking, and canyoning will thrill to the many opportunities that await in the hotel's surroundings, including the celebrated GR20 cross-Corsica hiking trail, and can relax afterwards in the heated outdoor pool.

3 PORTO VECCHIO — 2 NIGHTS

(2 properties available)

Grand Hôtel de Cala Rossa & Spa Nucca

Hotel and restaurant on the seafront. Hidden in a peaceful cove in the Gulf of Porto-Vecchio, the Grand Hôtel de Cala Rossa has lived its life as a beautiful family home for four decades. In the heart of a private park that extends along a white sandy beach, international guests of all ages can find what they seek in this place where memories mingle with modernity. Chefs Pascal Cayeux and Gauthier Devillers skilfully combine the island's best products with fruit harvested in the morning from their organic garden to create a gastronomic journey. At the spa, Hélène and Lise Canarelli invite you to discover Nucca, their natural cosmetics line made from Corsican scrubland plants.

Les Bergeries de Palombaggia

Hotel and restaurant on the seafront. The hotel basks in the scents of the maquis, perched on a hillside overlooking Palombaggia Beach. This is one of the finest beaches in southern Corsica, with its turquoise waters and white sands fringed by stone pines, and the Cerbicales islands in the distance. The elegant stone bastide boasts guest rooms overlooking the surrounding countryside which are simply decorated in natural colours and materials so as not to upstage its rare environment. La Table & La Terrasse de Mina ("grandmother" in Corsican), the restaurant, offers an introduction to the cuisine and ingredients of Corsica. It occupies a peaceful terrace next to an infinity pool that reflects the sky and the stars.

4 SAN PANTALEO - OLBIA — 2 NIGHTS

(1 property available)

Petra Segreta Resort & Spa

Hotel and restaurant in the country. Tiny traditional stone houses, tucked away in five hectares of forest, in the shade of juniper bushes and holm oaks, have been converted into sophisticated rooms where you can relax. The air is fragrant with the scents of the garrigue, and there are delightful views to be enjoyed over the Gulf of Arzachena and the Archipelago of Maddalena. The wellness centre, housed in natural granite grottos, offers a treatments specialising in Oriental techniques. The Italian regional cuisine served in the restaurant is light and appetising. Unless lunch on board a boat on a private excursion on the clear waters of the Costa Smeralda exercises an even greater attraction.
