ROUTES DU BONHEUR Romania, Latin soul in the heart of the Balkans

Romania is full of surprises. Starting with Bucharest, the 'Paris of the Balkans,' a long-isolated capital that secretes Art Nouveau and Belle Époque architectural treasures between Ceausescu-era constructions and modern skyscrapers. As soon as you leave the metropolis, you will discover a country rooted in tradition, where carts drawn by donkeys share the roads with cars. How can you not be seduced by this country of traditions and legends that includes Castle Bran and the shadow of Count Dracula?

Matca Hotel

In Transylvania, not far from Bran Castle, the Matca Hotel is embraced by an environment of forests and meadows, a breathtakingly beautiful landscape that seems to have escaped the reaches of civilization. This sturdy, traditional farm that blends so comfortably with the surroundings presages a stay that is wholesome and in touch with the land. The Matca Hotels' rooms, in large outbuildings with pointed shingle roofs, as well as the two independent villas boasting the added luxury of a private jacuzzi, have refined, carefully considered décor. White walls, light wood, warm fabrics, and breathtaking views of the rolling hills, the summits of the Piatra Craiului Mountains, and the Bucegi Natural Park. Enjoy long walks in the mountains, a dip in the indoor swimming pool with lovely panoramic views, massages, and halotherapy session, followed by friendly, relaxed dinners crafted by a creative chef who reinterprets the recipes of Romanian cuisine with true inspiration.
